WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1877. At the invitation of the Minister of the Interior, several gentlemen interested in the water mark on the respective coasts of the subject of Immigration met at his office on islands composing this Kingdom, and also Friday last, to express their views and recommend some feasible plan for securing laborers. His Excellency stated the object of acts, in violation of Our neutrality within Our which was felt everywhere, and which threat ened to become more serious. No new agricultural guterprises can be commenced on Kausi, unless the laborers are taken thither, The same remarks apply to Hawaii and Mari. In short, we have come to that point where progress must stop, not for want of capital, but for want of laborers.

In accordance with the above suggestions, the Board of Immigration have 'recommended the Minister of Interior, to treat with persons, who may desire to bring laborers into this country. It is the opinion of the Board, that in view of the pressing need for labor, the Government should loan its credit and assistance, to those who are able and desirous, of bringing in men and families, and may have facilities for doing so, from any part of the world. All areaneousets that may be made with the Minister, are intended to be upon the basis, that all assistance rendered to the Immigrants shall be returned by those who shall employ them, after their arrival on these

Opening of Kapiolani Park.

Address of James Makes, President of the Association, to His Majesty the King: Sizz:-

As the President of the Kaniolani Park Association it is my honorable duty at this its formal opening to address Your Majesty.

It has come to be generally recognized that cities require for complete extilized life something more than paved and lighted streets, wharves, sewers, water-works, police, and such other matters as are of the first necessity. Men, women and children need places of open air, city flags of every color, site and design were public resert for refreshment and recreation by

The want of a second road was seemed to the members of the Association that much felt, the present one being very narrow, the day had come for securing a large public and, on occasion like this, of much too limited park for Houseals. While we are sensible that we are only at the beginnings of our work we trust that it has nevertheless come to a point when we may properly present it to Your Majesty, for formal inneguration as a Park.

In the possibilities of the future we see here far more than yet meets the eye. The site has odvantages which may be offset against the lack of certain features of park scenery, such as merlooking us stern, sentinel Dismond Head, we have these white-crested billows ever beating on nine inland.
